Police & Crime Commissioner for Cleveland

The latest government funding settlement for policing in Cleveland provides £3.1m more cash than in 2019/20. At the same time, they have increased the amount Cleveland Police needs to pay into the Police Pension Fund by £3.3m.

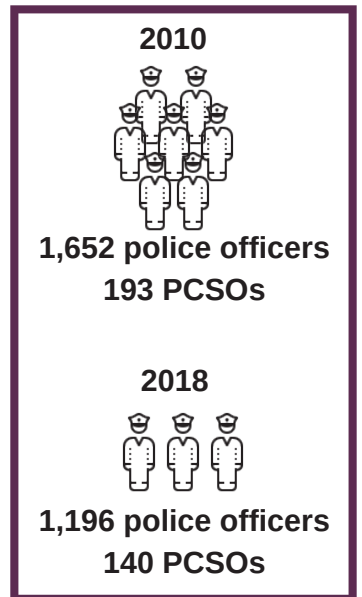

So considering inflation, pay increases and other rising costs, in reality, this settlement is another significant cut to our policing budget next year.

Maintaining the current policing services requires an increase of £24 a year - or 46p a week - for residents in Band D properties. In reality, more than 80% of residents in Cleveland will pay less than this.

Thank you to those of you who took part in our recent consultation. Of those responding, over two thirds (68%) were prepared to pay an additional £24 a year for a Band D property to protect current levels of policing.

Despite these financial restraints, Cleveland Police is continuing to make good progress on their journey of organisational transformation and improvement and has been judged as 'good' by the police watchdog.

I am extremely proud of the hardworking officers, staff and volunteers who work tirelessly to keep us safe. We are grateful for the support from the public and many organisations across Cleveland.
