THE POLICE AND CRIME COMMISSIONER'S TEN POINT PLAN

Bringing offenders to justice

Increasing opportunities for offenders to be held accountable for their behaviour with a focus on preventing reoffending.

Getting tough on drugs and gangs

Introducing a holistic approach to drugs and gangs including prevention, early intervention and targeted intervention.

Tackling antisocial behaviour head-on

Taking a strong stance on antisocial behaviour through partnership working and youth engagement.

Effective criminal justice system

Collaborate with and hold to account Cleveland Police and wider Criminal Justice agencies to increase public confidence.

Prevent, reduce and tackle serious violence

Development of a Serious Violence Strategy in collaboration with Cleveland Police and Community Safety Partnerships.

More police on our streets

Investing in the frontline community response.

Tackling violence against women and girls

Working in partnership with local services to ensure women feel safe and supported.

Building confidence in our communities

Ensuring a high quality service is delivered by Cleveland Police, building pride and support for police across our local area.

Effective quality support for victims and witnesses

Ensuring high quality support is available for victims and witnesses through commissioning specialist support services.

Use technology to combat crime

Maximise the use of technology, creating opportunities for efficiencies and additional support for the workforce.

INVESTING IN CLEVELAND POLICE

Through additional Government funding and an 80p per month increase to your council tax bill, Cleveland Police will receive an additional £6.8m over the next financial year. This is helping to pay for:

Highest number of officers since 2014 - by March 2023, Cleveland Police will have 250 more officers than in 2019 - an increase of 20%.

Increase in police officer pay - ensuring Cleveland Police's hardworking police officers receive fair pay for their work.

In total, PCC Steve Turner will invest almost half a BILLION pounds in Cleveland Police over the next three years, giving new Chief Constable Mark Webster an opportunity to drive forward improvement.

This table tells you what your contribution to policing and community safety in Cleveland will be for the next financial year.
